Dear Colleagues and friends,

We are delighted to invite you to the EPICOH 2026 Scientific Conference, taking place in the vibrant city of Stockholm from 24 to 27 August. This international gathering will bring together researchers, practitioners, and policymakers in occupational and environmental epidemiology to share cutting-edge science, foster collaboration, and inspire innovation.

Join us for four days of engaging keynote lectures, interactive sessions, and networking opportunities in one of Europe's most dynamic and scenic capitals. Whether you're presenting your latest findings or exploring new ideas, EPICOH 2026 promises to be a memorable and impactful experience.
